

DASHBOARD: MALARIA DEATHS IN AFRICA

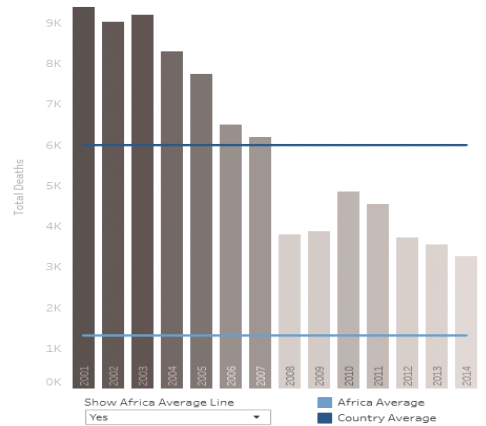

1. ZAMBIA

Which countries are most affected?

Darker shading marks a higher number of deaths caused by Malaria. Select a country on the map to explore how the number of malaria deaths have changed over time.

How have the number of malaria deaths changed over time in Zambia?

Zambia recorded its highest death in the year 2001 with a little over 9000 people losing their life's to malaria and its lowest death in the year 2014 with a little over 3000 people losing their life's to malaria.

This information is clearly seen in the bar chart. With the highest bar coming in 2001 and the lowest in 2014

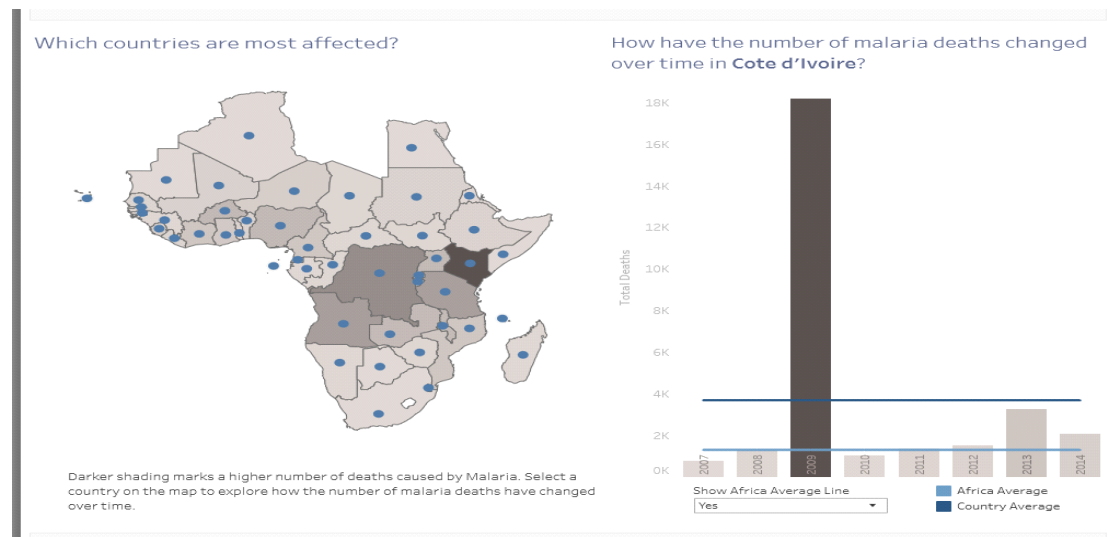

There has been a decline in the number of deaths across the years from 2001 - 2014 with the exception of a few years (2003,2009,2010) which showed an increase in the number of deaths compared to the preceding year

2. ALGERIA:

Algeria has recorded little to no deaths due to malaria across the years, one of the lowest in the continent. With its country's average score coming at 0. This information is gotten from the chart as the country's average score represented by the dark blue line rest on the 0 mark.

3. COTE D'IVOIRE:

Cote d'Ivoire's malaria deaths record for the years 2001- 2007 where not recorded in the chart. The country experienced its highest death rate of 18000 in the year 2009. It recorded its lowest death rate in the year 2007.

This information is clearly seen in the bar chart. With the highest bar coming in 2009 and the lowest in 2007

The country's average death score across the years which is approximately 3900 lies above that of Africa coming at 1300.

This information is gotten from the chart as the country's average score represented by the dark blue line rest on the 3900 mark while that of Africa rest on 1300 mark